Mathematics and the Universe –
Insights into reality from mathematics

Dr Ian Brown

Does Mathematics point to God?

Dr Ian Brown (Regent's University London, retired, Chaldon resident for 49 years), will give a vividly illustrated slideshow exploring how the language of mathematics might help us address such questions as: "Where did the laws controlling the Universe come from, and do they suggest a Creator?"

No mathematical knowledge is required. It will be light-hearted.

Ian has promised two things:

1. not to bore people with mathematics over their head;
2. not to push Christianity down people's throats.

Entry £5, teas and cakes on sale, with proceeds to the Friends of Chaldon Church.
